This association dates its origin to 1840, when on the 2d of April of that year, some eighteen gentlemen, principally connected with the several State Geological Surveys then in progress, met in Philadelphia and organized under the name of "The Association of American Geologists." At the meeting in Boston, in 1842, it was decided to enlarge the object so as to include the collateral branches, and the name to that of "The Association of American Geologists and Naturalists." In 1847, the objects were still further enlarged so as to include all departments of science. A new organization was effected under the present name, and the first meeting was held at Philadelphia, Sept. 20, 1848. This association is international, covering as it does the continent of America, migratory in its meetings, which have been held in various cities of the Union and Canada annually, except during the years 1861-65, when they were suspended in consequence of the unsettled condition of the country. A volume of proceedings has been printed for each of these meetings. The officers are elected annually, except the permanent Secretary. The office of the Permanent Secretary, Prof. F. W. The former Society was incorporated in 1821, the latter in 1836. In February, 1870, an act was passed enlarging the powers of the Institute so as to include among its objects, the promotion of the arts, science and literature, in addition to those of the original societies. Its library contains about 70,000 volumes bound, and about 250,000 pamphlets, exclusive of duplicates and embracing all departments of literature. Its museum contains a large collection of antiquarian and historical relics, paintings, engravings, medals, coins, paper currency, etc. The scientific portion is deposited in the Museum of the Peabody Academy of Science. At the time of its removal, the collection contained over 125,000 specimens in the departments of Ethnology, Zoology, Botany, Mineralogy, and Geology, scientifically arranged, and in good part labelled and catalogued. Under the instrument of trust, East India Marine Hall (erected in 1824) was purchased and re-fitted, and the Museum of the East India Marine Society and the Natural History Collections of the Essex Institute received by the trustees as permanent deposit were placed therein. To this foundation have been added many valuable collections since received by the trustees. A new exhibition hall was opened in 1889.

The arrangement of the Museum is educational, and not merely for the purpose of exhibiting curiosities. It is especially designed to aid the teachers of the county in connection with school work. Cards on many of the objects give lists of books in the Salem Public Library relating to the collections.

The collections in the public exhibition halls may be summarized as follows:

I. A collection of the animals and minerals of Essex County. A collection of woods of the trees of Essex County, and one of the pre-historic relics of the county. A large collection of the dried plants of the county, in cabinets, in the lower rooms, may be consulted by students upon application at the office.

II. A synoptical collection illustrating the animal kingdom, from the lowest to the highest forms, arranged according to the text-books in common use in our schools and colleges. Letters upon the cases indicate the order in which it should be examined.

III. A type collection of minerals illustrating the edition of Dana's Mineralogy, used in our schools, and a collection illustrating the historic geology of the earth.

IV. A collection of objects illustrating the dress, religious customs, implements of war and of domestic use, and objects of art of the native races of China, Japan, Siam, India, Korea, Africa, Polynesia, North and South America, etc., in the new east hall. This collection originated in 1799 with the formation of the East India Marine Society, and has had an uninterrupted existence since that date. It was greatly increased in 1868 by the specimens received from the Essex Institute, and large additions have since been made by the Academy trustees.

V. An historical collection of portraits of prominent Salem merchants, members and officers of the East India Marine Society, together with many interesting relics connected with the early social character of that institution, and models and pictures of Salem merchant vessels. These form an interesting memorial of the commercial history of Salem.

The Academy has published two volumes of memoirs and annual reports; it has conducted classes in botany, mineralogy and zoology, and for several years held a summer school of biology. Lectures upon subjects connected with natural history and ethnology are given annually in Academy Hall.

The average number of visitors to the Museum has been over 45,000 annually during the past five years.

The Museum is open free to the public every week-day from 9 A. M. to 5 o'clock P. M., and Sundays from 2 to 5 P. M.

The large addition, built in 1885, for the purpose of increasing the Museum accommodations, has on the lower floor a fine lecture hall, known as Academy Hall. It has a seating capacity of 350, is centrally located, comfortably seated, well ventilated, and is in every respect a first class audience room. The hall is used for lectures by the academy, and is rented for concerts, lectures and readings.

Officers, William C. Endicott, President; Abner C. Goodell, Secretary; John Robinson, Treasurer, in charge of the Museum who, together with S. Endicott Peabody, George Cogswell, Henry L. Higginson and Elisha Thompson, form the board of trustees; Edward S. Morse, Director, John H. Sears, curator of mineralogy and zoology, John R. Treadwell, janitor in charge of Academy Hall.

9. SALEM ATHENÆUM was incorporated in March, 1810. Its conception was suggested by the Boston Athenæum, organized some three years earlier. The characters of the two institutions are in many respects similar, the incorporated objects of both being the promotion of literature, the arts and sciences. The Salem Athenæum purchased the social and philosophical libraries. The former organized in 1761, the latter in 1781. The Athenæum rooms in Central building, Market (now Central) street were opened to the proprietors on Wednesday, July 11, 1810, with a good collection of books properly arranged and classified. In April, 1815, the library was removed to rooms in Essex place; in 1825, to rooms over the Salem Bank; in 1841, to Lawrence place, and in 1857 to Plummer Hall. The present number of volumes, about 24,500. Miss Caroline Plummer, daughter of Dr. Joshua and Olive (Lyman) Plummer, born Jan. 13, 1780, and died at Salem May 15, 1854, bequeathed to the proprietors of the Athenæum $30,000, for the purchasing of land and the erecting thereon a building known as Plummer Hall, in which are deposited the libraries of the Salem Athenæum, Essex So. District Medical, Essex Agricultural Societies, and a portion of the library of the Essex Institute. The collections formed were first deposited in the building on the corner of Essex and Washington streets. In 1804 they were removed to the Salem Bank Building, on the site of Downing's Block, and in 1825 to the East India Marine Hall, erected for the accommodation of this valuable collection. In 1867 the building was sold to the Trustees of the Peabody Academy of Science, and the Museum was placed in the hands of the Academy as a permanent deposit. 12. THE SALEM FRATERNITY. The next evening a few persons came together in the parlors of Benjamin H. Silsbee, Esq., to confer upon the matter further. Other meetings followed at the same place, and resulted in the formation of the Salem Fraternity; object, "to provide evening instruction and amusement" for such of our population as, "being confined to their work during the day, need recreation at the close of their labors." On the evening of the 21st of April, 1869, the western range of rooms on the second floor of Downing's Block, 175 Essex street, was opened for the purpose, from front to rear. The Amusement Room.—The number in attendance fluctuates with the season and with the attractions outside. In the warm weather and short evenings a few only will appear. During the long winter evenings, especially if cold and stormy, this comfortable room is much prized. The Library.—It began with a few shelves of books, miscellaneous and unselected, in a small, back room. There are now 4221 volumes in the library; 500 for reference only, gathered by gift wholly. It was the first free library in Salem. Its large number of readers shows an active circulation. The Reading Room is supplied with the Salem papers by the favor of the publishers, and from some of their offices come, besides, many of their most desirable exchanges; several daily and weekly newspapers, pictorial weeklies, religious, scientific and literary periodicals, find their way to the tables, at a very small outlay of money. In 1875 the Fraternity became incorporated under the Statutes of Massachusetts. Officers for the year 1894-5: Rev. E. B. Willson, Pres.; Wm. D. Northend, V. Pres.; Wm. Northey, Treas.; Geo. W.
