DIRECTORY OF DANVERS

891

DANVERS, MASS., is 20 miles north of Boston, on the Eastern and Western lines of the Portland Division of the Boston & Maine railroad; five miles from Salem and four miles from the famous North Shore at Beverly Farms, with frequent Bay State Street Railway Company electric cars to every principal section of Essex county and beyond.

Danvers has 11,000 population; municipal electric light, power and water supply; a moderate tax rate; finest high and common schools; churches of every principal denomination; free public library of 20,000 volumes; macadam roads; magnificent shade trees; many miles of concrete sidewalks; and numerous other progressive features.

Danvers is a fine old historic town, abounding in places of interest. It is in every way a healthful, attractive and enjoyable place either for a summer home or a permanent residence.

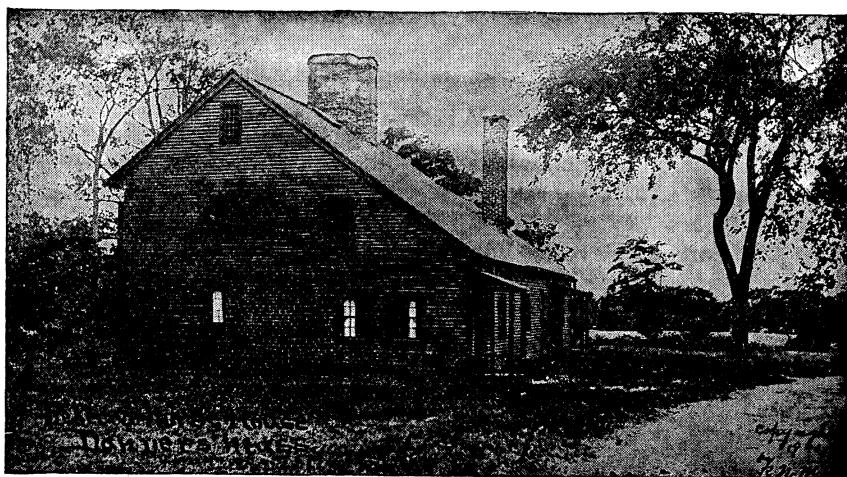

Danvers is growing rapidly and realty values are increasing in proportion.

CONCRETE BUILDING BLOCKS

For foundations and underpinnings, 18c each in yard, furnished and laid for 30c per square face foot. Houses and garages built of concrete building blocks with stucco exterior finish prove satisfactory in every way. Warm in winter, cool in summer, and cost but little more than wood.

I manufacture all kinds of concrete building material; also lay granolithic walks and drives. Let me give you an estimate.
